

I would like to encourage the FCC to increase funding for the E-Rate program. The demands for technology across ALL socioeconomic levels has far exceeded the supply resources. We must have the funding and resources to prepare our students to compete in a global economy where information abounds through connectivity.